Ceremony Symbols & Traditions

The Academic Procession

The procession begins with the entrance of the candidates for degrees, led by faculty and staff marshals. Candidates enter in groups representing their respective colleges and programs, proceeding in an order determined by degree level and academic discipline.

The procession continues with representatives of the faculty, staff, and academic department heads.

The president's party forms the final section of the academic procession. Headed by the commencement marshal, it includes the president; members of the Iowa Board of Regents; administrative officers; the academic deans; and honored guests.

Presidential Emblem

The individuals leading the procession of the graduates, the faculty, and the president's party carry a mace, which is a symbol of office. Those individuals are the student body president, the chair of the faculty, and the university commencement marshal. Over long tradition, a mace is a symbol of authority and official celebration. The university mace is the largest of the three maces, and it embodies the history and dignity of the entire university. The president wears a jeweled "Chain of Office," symbolizing the wearer as the leader of the institution. The silver chain includes links with the names of previous presidents of the institution, as well as previous names of the university.

Regalia / Academic Costume

Students wearing a bronze medallion are those graduating Summa Cum Laude (with highest honors), which represent the top 3% of each college by grade point average; or those graduating students receiving a Purple and Old Gold Award, given to those students who have excelled in scholarship or who have shown conspicuous achievement in particular areas.

The academic costumes worn trace their origin to the Middle Ages, when long-sleeved, hooded gowns were necessary for warmth in the unheated stone colleges. Over the centuries, much diversity occurred. In 1984, to bring some order, the United States agreed on an intercollegiate system of academic costume, now adhered to by American institutions. According to this code, both the styling and colors of the regalia have significance.

The design of the gown indicates the degree. The bachelor's is a simple gown with a full sleeve. The master's gown is much like it except for the long sleeve, which hangs loose. The doctoral gown is fuller and more elaborate. It has velvet edging and three velvet stripes on the full sleeve. The color of this velvet may be black or in the color appropriate to the degree.

Hoods, which are worn over the gowns, are similar for all degrees, although differing slightly in length. The candidates for the bachelor's degrees usually do not wear the hood. The hood has a velvet edging indicating the area of the degree, and the inside or lining of the hood is satin in the colors of the college or university granting the degree.

The colors of the undergraduate tassels are as follows:

Citron, College of Social & Behavioral Sciences

Drab, David W. Wilson College of Business

Gold & White, College of Humanities, Arts & Sciences

Light Blue, College of Education

Navy & White, Online Education & Individual Studies

The colors of the trim on the graduate hoods are as follows, with gold tassels and velvet on the sleeves designating doctoral candidates:

Citron, Social Work

Pink, Music

Drab, Accounting or Business Administration

Sage, Athletic Training

Light Blue, Education

Yellow Gold, Science

Peacock Blue, Public Policy

White, Arts

University Honors Program

Graduates wearing gold University Honors medallions are recipients of designations from the University Honors Program. The designation of University Honors with Distinction indicates the completion of at least 30 credit hours of honors-level course work throughout a student's undergraduate study. The designation of University Honors indicates the completion of at least 18 credit hours of honors-level coursework. Both designations require the completion of an undergraduate honors thesis. Students earning honors designations are noted throughout the commencement program along with their thesis titles.

Graduation with Honors

Three levels of honors are awarded to students on graduation from a bachelor's degree curriculum. To receive an honor rating, the student must earn no less than 55 semester hours of credit at this university.

The names of the students receiving honors are identified in the commencement program and on their academic transcript.

Summa Cum Laude

Students whose cumulative UNI grade point average places them in the top 3% of those students graduating from their academic major college/division will be awarded Summa Cum Laude. Recipients of this honor will wear a bronze medallion.

*Magna Cum Laude

Students whose cumulative UNI grade point average places them in the top 4% through top 8% of those students graduating from their academic major college/division will be awarded Magna Cum Laude. Recipients of this honor will wear a purple cord.

Cum Laude

Students whose cumulative UNI grade point average places them in the top 9% through top 15% of those students graduating from their academic major college/division will be awarded Cum Laude. Recipients of this honor will wear a gold cord.

Legacy Graduates

The University of Northern Iowa has a long and proud tradition of multi-generational family graduates. The Legacy designation (%) in the commencement program signifies that a parent and/or grandparent is also a UNI graduate. Legacy information included in this program was submitted by the graduate.

Candidates listed in this program reflect information submitted by the published deadline of November 10, 2025.

Listing in the program does not assure final honors designation or that degree requirements have been met.
